Hard Fork

Return to Glossary

A hard fork (or sometimes hardfork), as it relates to blockchain technology, is a radical change to the protocol that makes previously invalid blocks/transactions valid (or vice-versa). This requires all nodes or users to upgrade to the latest version of the protocol software.

Source: Hard Fork

From:
https://omgwiki.org/dido/ - DIDO Wiki

Permanent link:
https://omgwiki.org/dido/doku.php?id=dido:public:ra:xapend:xapend.a_glossary:h:hard_fork&rev=1627407113

Last update: 2021/07/27 13:31