Distributed Application

Return to Glossary

Distributed Application (ĐApp or DApp) is software that is executed or run on multiple computers within a network. These applications interact in order to achieve a specific goal or task. Traditional applications relied on a single system to run them.

Source: Distributed Application

From:
https://omgwiki.org/dido/ - DIDO Wiki

Permanent link:
https://omgwiki.org/dido/doku.php?id=dido:public:ra:xapend.glossary:d:distributed_application&rev=1559434631

Last update: 2019/06/01 20:17